

White Provision

White Provision at the Westside Market is a mixed-use re-development that includes the renovation of the historic White Provision building located at the corner of 14th and Howell Mill Street in Atlanta Georgia . The development will expand the successful Westside Market in providing additional boutique retail and restaurant space while adding new residential and office in an urban setting. The project is projected to begin construction in Fall 2006 and deliver to the market in summer 2008. For leasing and sales information, please contact info@wwcompany.com.
